Additionally you need:

89 342 00	Side cutter for jewellery
89 341 00	Tapered flat pliers for jewellery
89 378 00	Craft scissors
33 397 00	Glue for jewellery	some

Instructions:

- 1 Cut the jewellery wire 5 x 1 m with a side cutter.
- 2 Hold the ends of a jewellery wire flush. Measure 43 cm from the middle and bend it by means of the tapered flat pliers.
- 3 Bend also the center slightly.
- 4 Curl the jewellery wire between the kinks over the back of a pair of scissors.
- 5 Thread the wine-red Rocailles on both sides, but only between the kinks.
- 6 Thread 2 crimp beads on, cross the other end through and press shut the crimp beads with the tapered flat pliers.

Instructions:

- 7 Prepare 3 additional jewellery wires and thread them in the colour change, see picture.
- 8 Connect the 4 strands with the last jewellery wire as follows: first, hold the jewellery wire flush and measure 21.5 cm from the middle, then bend it and curl. Thread the Antique Rocailles on.
- 9 Thread 14 Antique Rocailles on one side, put 4 finished strands one upon the other (overlapped), thread the jewellery wire through the strands, then thread back through 7 Antique Rocailles.
- 10 Tighten the jewellery wire thus it forms a ring around the strands.
- 11 Thread 28 Antique Rocailles (take note of your desired necklace length), then thread a calotte end and 2 crimp beads. Press shut the crimp beads with the tapered flat pliers, cut the rest off. Put some glue for jewellery into the calotte end and press it shut.
- 12 Set the other side up as well. Finally, hook the small ring and the carabiner clasp up to the calotte end.
